COMPANY PROFILE

WHAT IS AISH TYCOON'S

Back in 2010, when Aish Tycoons began, most businessmen and Organizations in Pakistan were facing a big challenge regarding E-commerce. Most of them were unaware of its tools and the rest were threatened to step towards a new risk, others were not getting the right people with whom they can reach their vision of increased productivity and become competitive in global market.

Aish Tycoons founders, Asim Iftikhar Mughal and Muhammad Onais Khan had a vision and dream to bridge this gap of its people towards their vision. So they initiated a company that would make it possible for its customers to reach their goals of business efficiently and effectively by entering and utilizing the E-commerce Market. Working from a small apartment, they both together spent thousands of hours and accumulated the most leading Software Solution Provider anywhere in Pakistan.

SEARCH ENGINE OPTIMIZATION

Every businessman wants his targeted customers to find his products and services easily on the search engines and for this one not only wants the high possible ranking but also wants his customers to click through his website. Searchers not only search for once but do several attempts by editing search terms. So if you're frequently shown in all these search results it means that your website is gaining trust of searcher and increasing possibility of being clicked through, your website will raise chances that some of them will eventually become your clients.

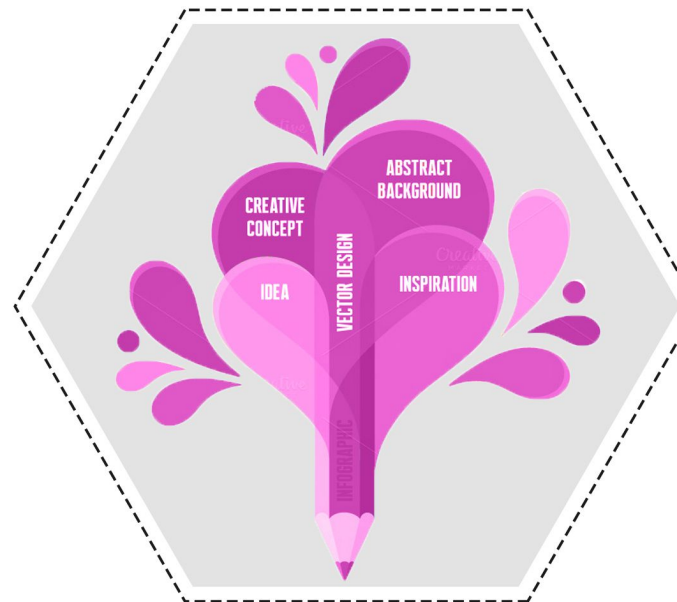

PRINT DESIGNING

As we have mentioned earlier that the visual communication is more effective and worthy than the message conveyed in a form of text and due to this study the formation of your corporate logo or print design is of great significance. Print design is the graphic design through which you can communicate the message and converse your business tag line to your customers, investors and partners. It is the complete impression of your business or organization.

PRODUCT PHOTOGRAPHY

The value and the worthiness of your business products and services are often being estimated by the web design, logo and the products images that you display on your website. This fact cannot be denied that the good quality images of your product attract and grasp the attention of your target audience. Displaying your products with good and high-quality images really mean to your business growth and your profit. For this you need your products images to be captured skillfully and in a way that it represents and showcase its effectiveness and worthiness to the customers.

IT CONSULTANCY

Aish Tycoons primary objective is to help the business people and organizations use technology to become more dynamic, creative, challenging and productive. Changes and innovations have always been a big threat to business men, especially while adopting something new in Information Technology. Most of the business men are threatened because of the technical usage of it, lack of knowledge about its technical terms, training of in-house staff, ambiguity about what and when is required and other complications that are expected to generate due to its implementation.
